

Flowers in February—Photos by Anita M. Harris

NOW ON VIEW AT

www.anharris.myphotoalbum.com

and available for purchase at Old Town Hall, Lincoln MA or through the artist.

(Please contact Anita via the comment box, below, or by emailing info at harriscom dot com).

Exhibited February 1-28m 2010

Lincoln Public Library

3 Bedford Road

Lincoln, MA

Reception: Saturday, Feb. 13, 3-4:30 PM

Artist's Statement:

In this exhibit, I hope to share the joy I feel when discovering the amazing shapes, colors, and patterns of nature—and to offer a bright spot, an indoor garden, a few rays of warmth and hope, during these cold, dark, winter days.

I'm especially pleased to be showing my photos in the Lincoln Library—where I've much appreciated the helpfulness and graciousness of the staff. In return, I plan to donate a portion of profits from photo sales to the library.

I hope you enjoy the photos, which are available for *purchase from Anita Harris Photography (see below) or at Old Town Hall Exchange, 25 Lincoln Rd., Lincoln, MA.

I'd welcome your comments!
—Anita M. Harris*

Anita M. Harris a photographer, writer, communications consultant and member of the Lincoln Library's Write Stuff group. Her photos have been shown at the Arlington and Concord Art Associations, at Harvard University and in the Boston Public Library. They have also published in popular and trade publications and seen on the CBS Discovery Channel.

Anita Harris Photography
Cambridge, MA 02138
617-576-0906
info at harriscom dot com
www.anharris.myphotoalbum.com
www.harriscom.com

New Cambridge Observer is a publication of the Harris Communications Group of Cambridge, MA. We also publish Harriscomblog and Ithaca Diaries blog.

