

CIC welcomes new (old) client...

Warm welcome to one of the newest (oldest?) clients at the Cambridge Innovation Center...My favorite entrant in the Halloween Competition, so far. It's by Mike Burtov, CEO at Cangrade, which offers hiring automation/psychological testing. Back story is that this guy or gal is still waiting for Netscape to load...from 5 1/4 inch floppy disks. Pleased that s/he's in C3 (shared space on the 5th floor) rather than on another floor, where I often work, which we've dubbed "elderhostel" for reasons you might be able to guess.
