

Racist N-word scrawled on Boston homeowner's fence...Help fund replacement?

Irene Smalls, a children's book author, fellow Cornell alum and my friend, found the racist "N-word" spray painted in a bizarre message on the fence outside her home in downtown Boston. Irene is raising funds to replace the fence and install cameras. Please contribute if you can?