

Between Blockbusters at the ICA

On a freezing cold January afternoon, my companion and I decided on a quick getaway to Boston's beautiful new Institute of Contemporary Art. Although the museum was between blockbuster shows, we found much to admire.