

Palmer Faran on Ukraine Response: Echoes of the Past

The world was different then, no nuclear bombs, no television. Our excuse was that we didn't know. (Although many did know.) Now we watch in real time. Buildings crumbling before our eyes, bodies in the street, a child's shoe in the gutter. This is not a movie. What will be our excuse this time?