

Keytar Bear's Music Raises Spirits in Kendall Square MBTA

Yesterday, the news from DC was not good, nor was the weather, nor was my writing! So I quit work at 3:30 and headed for the Kendall Square T. where I came upon the delightful Keytar bear, who immediately raised my spirits. I've long wanted to share the work of Boston area street musicians— Keytar said it would fine to post a video. I'm hoping this will be the first of many—and would welcome your contributions!
