

7 Global Companies Form Consortium to Fund Preclinical Neuroscience Research in Massachusetts

Seven global biopharmaceutical companies have each pledged to contribute $250,000 a new consortium that will fund preclinical neuroscience research in order to accelerate and make available academic research from Massachusetts to the pharmaceutical industry.